

The Emerging Scholars Network ESN Mentorship Programme

Finding your way in academia can be confusing, overwhelming, and intimidating. How do you choose the right conference? The right journal? The right research project? And who can you ask for advice?

ESN can help with the ESN Mentorship Programme.

The ESN Mentorship Programme matches emerging scholars with mentors from IAMCR in order to:

- Provide mentees with advice, guidance, and assistance at IAMCR and in their work
- Develop research, publications, and participation in IAMCR and other academic communities
- Exchange ideas, perspectives, and research
- Meet informally at conferences and communicate periodically during the year

Members across the world can exchange ideas, perspectives, and research that enrich their own and others' work.

Mentoring is a great way to help out emerging scholars and to continue the international connections so valuable to IAMCR and to our academic community.

For Mentors

Do you have 30 minutes to spare at IAMCR conferences? Could you respond to a handful of emails throughout the year?

Then please sign up now to become part of the ESN Mentorship Programme!

Just send a CV/bio to Sara Bannerman Sara.Bannerman@gmail.com and Stefania Milan stefania.Milan@eui.eu, ESN co-chairs.

Mentor commitments:

- Meet with mentee at IAMCR conferences
- Communicate periodically during the year
- Provide advice and feedback on conference, publication, and research plans

For Emerging Scholars

Would you like a little guidance and advice about academia and your participation in IAMCR?

Then please sign up now to become part of the ESN Mentorship Programme!

Just send a CV to Sara Bannerman Sara.Bannerman@gmail.com and Stefania Milan stefania.Milan@eui.eu, ESN co-chairs.

You don't have to be an ESN member to participate!

Mentee commitments:

- Meet with mentors at IAMCR conferences
- Communicate periodically during the year
- Provide mentors with occasional updates on research and publication projects

Please take part in this exciting program!

If you are interested in being a mentor or a mentee, please contact ESN co-chairs Sara Bannerman Sara.Bannerman@gmail.com and Stefania Milan stefania.Milan@eui.eu. Send a CV and/or bio and we will match you with someone whose research is similar to yours.

The inspiration of ESN founding member Katharine Sarikakis, the mentorship program aims to connect emerging scholars with senior scholar mentors for guidance and assistance. As mentors, established scholars meet with a mentee at conferences and are available for basic feedback and advice via email throughout the year.
